A picturesque village near Portimão, known for its narrow streets, cosy bars and restaurants, as well as a beautiful estuary and stunning beaches.

ALCALAR MEGALITHIC MONUMENTS RECEPTION AND INTERPRETATION CENTRE

A space dedicated to preserving and interpreting the archaeological remains of the region's megalithic culture. It offers exhibitions and information resources on funerary monuments and other remains from the Copper Age.

BOAT TRIPS, DOLPHIN WATCHING AND CAVES

Several companies offer boat trips along the coast, including dolphin-watching excursions.

PORTIMÃO MARINA BEACH

One of the Algarve's most famous beaches, known for its dramatic cliffs, golden sand and crystal-clear waters.

Located at the mouth of the Arade River, it's a small sandy beach separate from Rocha beach, which can be reached via the pedestrianised and cycle path that runs along the Marina.

CAREANOS BEACH

It is one of the most idyllic beaches in Portimão and stands out for its unique beauty, especially the colour of the sand, the sea and the rock formations.

Surrounded by gentle, ochre-coloured cliffs, golden sands and translucent waters, with easy pedestrian access, this is the chosen beach of many families with children.

ROCHA BEACH

TRÊS CASTELOS BEACH

VAU BEACH

ALEMÃO BEACH

At the top of the cliff there is a pine forest that turns into a windbreak. From this beach, you can explore the "Varandas sobre o Mar" footpath that runs along the top of the cliffs.

ALVOR BEACH

With its singular dimension, it is located on a long, wide sandy barrier, through the very sculpted cliffs. It is one of the most popular beaches for watching the sunset.

With a sandy area that stretches to the horizon, it is a dream beach with its origins in a picturesque fishing village. It is one of the ex-libris of the Portimão region and has won awards for the environmental quality of its waters and infrastructures.

PRAINHA

It is an extension of Três Irmãos beach, separated by rocks and cliffs. When the tide is low, it has a considerable stretch of sand, but at low tide it almost disappears.

A Great Pedestrian Route that crosses the Algarve in a 300km stretch. From Ruins to the Cape of Saint Vincent, it passes through a variety of landscapes, including mountains, valleys and areas of Mediterranean vegetation.

TRÊS IRMÃOS BEACH

TORRALTA BEACH

It is characterised by its crystal-clear warm waters, fine golden sands, a horizon as far as the eye can see in a sea of various shades of blue and the best conditions for comfort and safety.
